Office, Phelps Block Janesville, Wis. 1616-1617

There is one important idea in Mr. Cleveland's head, and that is to keep his mouth shut.

It is a singular and a very significant fact that there is not a Chinese beggar in all the Pacific coast.

Ex-Senator Doolittle has not yet been able to get an interview with Mr. Cleveland about the Russian mission. If Mr. Doolittle were to get rewarded according to his services to the democracy during last campaign he wouldn't get as high up as a notary public.

If our democratic friends want to get rid of their pauperism, Carter Harrison, they should prevail upon Mr. Cleveland to send him to Siam. When a man makes a fool of himself there, he doesn't have a chance to make a fool of himself the second time.

The report comes from New York that Miss Nellie Carpenter, daughter of the late Matt L. Carpenter, has joined the Catholic church. The family is on intimate terms with Mr. Cleveland, and it is said to be his influence that has led her to embrace the faith.

It is estimated that 200,000 tons of beet sugar will be consumed in this country during the coming year. The production of the whole world is estimated at 2,500,000 tons, Germany alone having produced 1,150,000 tons in 1881-82, and having erected within two years thirty new factories with a capacity for 850,000 tons more.

The Madison Democrat calls attention to the fact that the river and harbor bill is a rock on which many a craft bearing the hopes and ambitions of congressmen has been wrecked; and that the members of the present congress will do well to bear in mind. The following shows the appropriations for the seven last congresses:

Forty-second congress.....	$17,940,000
Forty-third congress.....	11,575,000
Forty-fourth congress.....	5,015,000
Forty-fifth congress.....	5,590,000
Forty-sixth congress.....	2,145,000
Forty-seventh congress.....	18,400,000
Forty-eighth congress.....	15,560,000

Will the Democrat please state for the benefit of its readers that the heaviest river and harbor appropriations were made by democratic congresses, the Forty-fourth, Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth and Forty-eighth, being democratic?

The B. & O. has in Washington and in its lines reaching the city advantages for the prompt care of its patrons in innu-meration times possessed by none other. In fact, its facilities are beyond all comparison the best, and those who want to get in and out of the city in anything like comfortable shape will possess themselves of B. & O. tickets. There are but two railroad depots in Washington. One of them is the B. & O., whereon only its passengers and their friends have any business, and wherein only its own trains arrive and depart. In the other, East-bound trains and west-bound, south-bound trains and north-bound, of various roads, fill every inch of track space, clog the depot platform like sheep in a pen, and sardines in a box, would be a loose comparison to the packed condition of things in the waiting room.

Will Mr. Cleveland rise and explain why he refused to have an interview with Judge J. K. Doolittle of Wisconsin? Is the new administration going to turn a cold shoulder to this distinguished political gymnast? For nearly twenty years he has been feeding on political husks. He kicked himself out of the republican party at a time when he supposed the party would soon be buried in defeat, and he wanted to make himself solid with the democratic party that a suitable reward might come of his sudden conversion; and now, after watching and waiting for so many years, to be snubbed by the democratic president-elect, must be galling to the judge. It may as well be restated in this connection, that Judge Doolittle has belonged to almost any party known in this country for the past forty years—the old democracy, the free soil democrats, the republicans, the greenbacks, and then back to the democrats again.

COLONEL VILAS AND THE CABINET.

Though nothing authoritative has come from Mr. Cleveland that Colonel William F. Vilas will receive a cabinet appointment, yet it is generally accepted as a matter of fact that a cabinet position has been quietly tendered him, and that he has modestly declined to accept the honored position. This statement is strengthened by the fact that Colonel Vilas will resign his seat in the assembly in the course of the next week or ten days.

It is much as we are to have a democratic administration, the people of Wisconsin, irrespective of party, will heartily congratulate Mr. Cleveland in selecting Colonel Vilas as one of his advisers. Speaking the truth, and doing but simple justice to him, it must be said that Colonel Vilas is one of the foremost of our western public men. In ripe scholarship, in broad culture, in graceful and impressive oratory, and in all things that go to build up a perfect gentleman, there is no man in all the west who is above him. He is a man of intensely keen perception, and in legal acumen he stands in the front rank of conspicuous lawyers. Although Colonel Vilas is a strong partisan, but representing the newer and the more vigorous blood in the democracy, he has not that unrelenting bitterness that is apt to characterize some of the men who will probably find places in Mr. Cleveland's cabinet. Men of good common sense, who will be needed as advisers to the democratic president, he will not only need them, but the country will need them.

Colonel Vilas is essentially a product of Wisconsin. He has grown from boy-hood to strong and distinguished manhood on Wisconsin soil, and the people of the state honor him for his many worth and will rejoice over his elevation to a cabinet position.

ABOUT JUDGE TAYLOR'S RE-ELECTION.

During the past few days there has been some discussion in regard to the reelection of Judge Taylor to the supreme bench of the state. There is no difference of opinion as to his qualifications for the position which he now holds. All agree that he is an able and a just judge, and from no direction does there come any complaints that he has not discharged his responsible duties faithfully and efficiently.

It was reported in several state papers the other day that it was doubtful if Judge Taylor would be a candidate on account of his age, that if re-elected he would be incapacitated from old age before his term of ten years would expire. It has been stated that he is 68, and therefore would be 78 when his term would close in 1895. But Judge Taylor is not yet 67, and beside that he is in excellent health, and is just as well preserved as most men at 57.

A correspondent of the Milwaukee Sentinel gives some very substantial reasons why Judge Taylor should be re-elected, and the Gazette takes pleasure in reprinting the chief points in the well-timed and excellent article. The correspondent says:

It is seldom in England that a lawyer is called to the higher courts until he has passed the age of 50. I have there seen one under that age at present in the chancery, exchequer or probate divisions, and but one in the queen's bench division and common pleas; and they are respectively 48 and 49. In the courts named, there are ten or twelve judges older than Judge Taylor, and quite a number of them many years older. The venerable Vice-Chancellor Bacon was 85 last year. When it is remembered that the English courts have for centuries been especially noted for their wisdom and learning, and to-day, upon all questions of the common law, command the respect of the civilized world, it may be well for us, in selecting judges, to take into account the learning, experience and abilities of the men composing their courts.

In support of the objection to Judge Taylor, it has been said that if he should be re-elected he would, before he entered the profession, have reached the age fixed by act of congress as the period when judges of the United States courts may retire on full salary. A history of the supreme court of the United States reveals the fact that the number of the justices of that court have served the public long and acceptably after they became 70. Judge Bradley, who is still doing good service, is considerably over 70. Some men are more worn out at 70 and 75 than others at 70 or 75. This being so, wisdom forbids the fixing of an arbitrary age for forcible retirement. Judge Taylor has been a hard worker and severe student ever since he entered the profession. Since he has been upon the supreme bench he has never, by reason of disability, been absent from the court, it is said, for a single hour, nor neglected a single duty. He is to-day in full vigor, and performing his full share of the duties and labors of that court, thoroughly and with indefatigable research. He is ripe in experience and wisdom, and has no equal in the state matters of statutory law.

It will be seen from this that there is no good reason for retiring Judge Taylor, but many reasons for continuing him on the bench. The members of the bar throughout the state are generally in favor of retaining Judge Taylor, and it is more than likely that the state bar association will endorse him. It would be an honor to the Wisconsin bar to give Judge Taylor their support, and it would likewise be a good thing for the supreme bench to give him a re-election.

STRIKE ENDED.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 15.—Announcements were made in all parts of the Hocking valley today, that the commissary had given out that aid was no longer coming in, and advising the men to get work. This ends the strike, which started last April. Many of the men went in last week in anticipation of this climax.

Something old—Allen's Bilious Phos-Phate quickly relieves promptly, and never fails to cure Sick Headache and Constipation. 25 cts., large bottles. At all druggists.

A SAD ACCIDENT.

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 15.—A most distressing accident, by which two men lost their lives and a boy was seriously injured, occurred near the New York, Pennsylvania & Ohio railroad depot in this city this evening. John and Peter Heaver, brothers, and a son of the former, aged 12 years, were going home from work. In attempting to cross the railroad bridge, on which there is no foot-path, they were overtaken by a train, and stepping to the opposite track, to escape, were run down by a switch engine. John Heaver's body was literally cut to pieces and fragments were scattered about the ground. Peter Heaver's legs were both cut off, and one of the boy's arms was crushed. John Heaver died at the hospital, and the boy's arm was amputated. Both men leave large families in destitute circumstances.

He Thanks His Father.

Mr. Editor:—I was induced by reading your good paper to try Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic for Debility, liver disorder, and acedemia, and three bottles have cured me. Accept my thanks. Jos. C. Boggs.

UNITED IN DEATH.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 15.—Will Adams, a young man 26 years old, and his sweetheart, Tina Wilmoth, a pretty girl of 18 years, were found dead at an early hour this morning on the railroad, one mile west of Shelbyville, Ky. Their bodies were stiff in death, bespattered with blood and lay within a few feet of each other. Adams' pistol, a small

Smith & Wesson, with two empty cartridges, lay between his legs. He evidently murdered the girl and then took his own life. Both were shot in the head, she in the right ear and he in his left eye. They walked to Shelbyville early in the night, from Wm. Jessie's, where the girl lived, and on the road are supposed to have sat down on the railroad track at the scene of the tragedy.

AN EXTRA SESSION.

Once-seekers Who Desire to Suffice

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Representative Bayne, of Pittsburg, said to-day, that it is the democrats and not the republicans who desire an extra session of congress. His remark grew out of a discussion of the subject wherein Bayne had stated with great positiveness that the chances were strongly in that direction.

"I know," said he, "it has been charged that we republicans wished to force an extra session in order to embarrass Cleveland at the outset of his administration. In denying this I speak not only for myself, but for all my republican colleagues with whom I have talked, and the number is very considerable."

"Have you heard intimations from democrats of a desire for an extra session?"

"If they are too polite to that. You see the game is to delay business in the house that during the last week so much work will be thrown upon the senate that that body cannot complete it, and then they will say, 'it is the fault of the republicans.' I have observed the demagogue as they move between the tallies and around on the floor. There is not that quick, nervous action that should characterize their steps, but a slow, time-taking way, that says plainly that words we must not hurry."

"What object have they to gain?"

"This. They don't want to go home just as the new administration is coming in and be besieged for office. If they remain in Washington, their constituents, who hunger for the loaves and fishes, must come here and push their claims. There are comparatively few who can do this, and the embarrassment therefore will be greatly lessened. This is one reason, but there is a stronger one. Already the mutterings of the discontent are quite audible in the democratic camp. The sound may not reach your ears but it does mine for I have many friends on the democratic side and they talk without reservation. The impression is very general that Cleveland does not intend to make many changes among the postmasters, collectors, marshals and others throughout the country except for cause, until their commissions expire."

"Would not an extra session injure the party not a little?"

"It would raise a howl for the time, but it would all wear off before 1885. There is plenty of time to rectify an error of that sort. The most serious result would be to the business of the country, in as much as all the great problems now before congress, such as the tariff, bankruptcy act, treaties and the like, would all be postponed again."

"But could not Cleveland delay an extra session until late in the autumn, and in this way practically defeat the scheme?"

"Not at all. The only excuse for an extra session is a bill to pass an appropriation bill. It would be necessary, therefore, for congress to reconvene in time to pass these measures before the 30th of June, the end of the fiscal year."

DAMROSCHE DEAD.

After a Few Days Illness which was not thought serious.

New York, Feb. 15.—Dr. Leopold Damrosch, the eminent musical director, died at his residence in this city this afternoon. He had been confined to his house since Tuesday night last, but was not thought seriously ill. On Monday evening he conducted the performance at the Lohengrin Metropolitan Opera house, and then seemed in his usual health. The next evening he undertook to direct a rehearsal of the Oratorio society, but was seized with a chill and had to be taken home in a carriage. Physicians decided that the patient's complaint was pneumonia, with a pleuritic complication, but did not consider his condition dangerous. At 3 o'clock this morning a sudden and material change for the worse occurred, and not until then did the invalid know he was dangerously ill. At 10 o'clock a physician said the patient was dying. The sick man was not made aware of his true condition. About 1 o'clock he dropped off into a sleep, in which he continued until 2:12, when he died.

ANOTHER BLOCKADE.

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—A driving snow-storm prevailed here nearly all day, ceasing this evening after darkness set in. The snow was fine, moist and clinging, and drifted badly before a strong north wind. Trains are coming in to-night delayed, and fears are expressed that in the present condition of affairs, with such vast quantities of snow piled up along the tracks, the blockade of last week will be renewed to-morrow unless the wind slackens. Advice received are to the effect that the storm is of much the same character and extent as that of one week ago. There is a severe blizzard in Iowa. Snow has fallen during most of the day in Wisconsin, Illinois and Indiana. The heaviest snow seems to have fallen in central and southern Illinois, and trains are reported as being heavy or entirely abandoned. That section. Rain is reported in southern Ohio, and warmer weather in the south and east.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla stops the nauseous discharges of scrofulous Catarrh, and cures the complaint.

KILLED HIMSELF.

WATKIN, Feb. 15.—August Fritz, a thriving young farmer living about one mile north of Brookfield, was killed this afternoon. Two of his neighbors brought a gun over to his place to-day, visited for some time and started homeward. They had gone about twenty rods when they heard the report of a gun, and immediately returned to the residence and found their young friend lying in a pool of blood. Mr. Fritz was alone at the time, and it is supposed he accidentally shot himself, as the whole left side of his head was shot off.

As a remedy for coughs and colds, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has never been equalled. Its name is a household word throughout the world.

JAPANESE PRISONS.

Interesting Report by a New York Clergyman—Peculiarities of Management.

Rev. Dr. T. M. Peters, rector of St. Michael's church, in his report to the Prison association of New York, of a visit to some of the prisons of Japan during his recent journey around the world, said:

"The three prisons to which I was taken are all in the great capital city, Tokio, and as they contain different classes of convicts, sufficed to give a good idea of the general manner of treatment of the Japanese criminal. In the Japanese prisons, after the sleeping usage of the country, the prisoners do not sleep in one-story buildings upon mats covering the floor. The mildness and decency of the Japanese, even when under a long and even lifetime sentence, are quite past our conception. One would suppose that, with such bodies of men confined together in a wooden building, violent outbreaks would be chronic and attempts at prison-breaking frequent. On the contrary, disturbances and uprisings are few, and anything like an insurrection on any scale is unknown. The only attempt at Tokio to break jail in any numbers occurred some years ago, when the convicts made its appearance in the Danza prison. A panic among the convicts resulted in an attempt to escape, seven only succeeding."

"The third, the largest and most interesting of the prisons of Tokio, and called Tsubudazima, is like our own penitentiary, upon an island near to the city, and reached by boat. There were there at the time of our visit 5,000 men and women and boys undergoing sentence, a part for ten years and the rest for shorter periods. Among them were about seventy-five women, quite a number of whom had their babies with them. Mothers having infants are, if committed to prison, permitted to retain them up to the age of 3 years."

"A great variety of occupations are piled at the Tsubudazima prison, allowing the possibility of employing all the prisoners either for purposes connected with the prison and government or in other ways. Some were engaged in making prison uniforms, others in preparing uniforms for the police. The rice used in the kitchen is cleaned by hand, or rather cock machinery, and ground in hand mills. There were also type-setting, printing, and book-binding. Leather is cured by one gang and made into shoes by another. A blacksmith's shop, a factory for woodware, painting on porcelain, and the manufacture of engines for watering gardens and fields, supply work for a portion of the men."

"The different trades here carried on amount in number to twenty-seven. The engine department I understood to be under contract, the others not. Seventy-five boys, also under sentence, are distributed among the adult workmen with the object of giving them a trade which will be useful when their time is up. This disposition of the boys was thought to be an advantage to them. Each prisoner doing a good day's labor receives, as I was informed by the officials, 3 cents for his labor allowance, and 7 cents more daily are credited to him, the accumulation being paid at his discharge. Prisoners distinguishing themselves by good behavior wear a badge as a mark of honor. They seem much pleased at being pointed out as they pass by."
